

1. As a result of this project, how did your perception(s) of your chosen poem change? My perception of the poem changed tremendously. It helped me understand it in many different ways, adding the pictures with the words was a lot of fun which made the project a .fun thing to do. I liked the fact that you could use many different types of pictures but would still explain the same story
2. As a result of this project, how did your perception(s) of poetry change? My perception of poetry has changed a lot. It helped me respect it a lot more and also understand it a lot more. I always thought that to make poetry it had to rhyme.
3. What was your favorite part of completing this project, and why? My favorite part of the project was putting the pictures with the words. I liked that you had the choice to what pictures you wanted to use. I also liked doing the editing on we video, it was fun and easy to use which made the project that's much fun to do.
4. What was your least favorite part of this project, and why? The part I hated the most was the time frame to do it. I was partnered with juawn but I felt that I had no say in any of it so I did my own. I had only two days to complete it and turn it in. I loved every part about the project as a whole.
5. How did this project challenge you? It was a challenge to understand the poem in the beginning. I have always had a hard time understanding what they were trying to say. It was also a challenge to learn how to use the we video account but once I followed the step by step instructions it was kind of easy. I wanted the project to be perfect so it was a challenge picking out the right pictures and also not making it too long or too short. I wanted the viewer to understand what the poem was trying to tell you and I think I did that.
